Year 4. We're almost part of the furniture. Almost. Because despite doing this for a few years now, it's never the same experience twice. But still amazing cast and a superbly creative crew come back to do it. And of course the energy we get from the audience sustains us the way that the Qafe's now legendary bacon butties do, so thank you for being here and seeing what can be done from scratch in such a short time frame. See you next year for 5 years of the 24 Hour Plays...
