Once more unto the breach dear friends, as we gather the finest creative minds Mattock Lane has to offer and get them to come up with plays in just 24 hours. And once more they've done it. Somehow. But that's the joy of this process. Never has the phrase 'the show must go on' been more apt. Put up a shelf and you'll find something to put on it. Tell people they only have a day to rehearse a new piece of writing and... well, see for yourself.
