Year 8 and half the cast this year have never done this before. This also means half the cast have done it before and still came back for more, addicted to the curious rush you only get when you realise that you can't procrastinate –the lines have to be learned right now. Special thanks to Fields for keeping us fed, Paul Whiting for coming in to help us set up the seating and the sun for coming out all day just when we were all cooped up inside...
