Dimbola

By

J. R. Thompson

Tuesday 29 June 2021

It is 14th December 1867 on the Isle of Wight. JR Thompson breathes life into an hilarious imagined encounter between Julia Margaret Cameron, the great portrait photographer, her forward and witty servant Mary, a very dashing equerry Louis, and their Queen and Empress. It is the anniversary of Albert's death; Victoria is morose and requiring either In Memoriam or brandy. While the Queen is under the influence of the latter Julia seizes the opportunity for a photograph while Mary and Louis seize other opportunities. Ars longa, vita brevis.
